

Dear rising seventh grade,

Summer is right around the corner. I know that most of you have fun plans for summer vacation - camp, vacations, day trips, etc. Wherever your summer takes you, I hope you will find the time every now and then to open a book, to read an interesting article, to use a recipe or instruction manual to create something fun, or to write a letter to a friend. I have selected two books that I would like us to be able to discuss as a class when you return in August. I am hoping that you will enjoy reading these books and return to school ready to talk about them.

“Great books help you understand, and they help you feel understood.”

- John Green

Incoming 7th Please read:

Tuck Everlasting: Natalie Babbitt

A Long Walk to Water: Linda Sue Park

Choose one book to create a one pager. This will be due Friday, August 23rd. This will count as your first project grade in your ELA class. We will also be discussing these books as a class and doing activities based on them.

Enjoy your summer,
Mrs. Hickey
